School Nutrition Bills: Introduced Passed

TREND WATCH

Unpaid meal debt remains a prominent trend in school nutrition legislation; 25 bills have been introduced concerning unpaid meal debt, Arkansas becoming the eleventh state to pass an unpaid meals law.

There are several bills that curb the use of polystyrene food containers, plastic bags, and single-use plastic straws. While these bills are intended to impact all food service establishments, they would also apply to school nutrition programs and impact some operators.

Several states have introduced and passed legislation concerning or specifying the development of web-based applications/Internet resources for state and federal nutrition programs.

Another trending legislative initiative is employee scheduling regulations. While these bills are not specifically tailored to school nutrition programs, managers, and others responsible for setting employee schedules need to be aware of these potential changes.

Other trends that have returned in 2019 are local procurement incentives, school breakfast incentives, Farm to School Programs and, eliminating the Reduced-Price co-pay.
